

nat ʿa wʿab ma samīn na šamʿaw

dad madw III

waʿb wʿab na N samīn wap raak h3a N dapak dapataf hanat sah-natar išašw har sataš samīn twt ib har sataš samīn bad raak hasaman.k ma ʿbw natarw šamasw har

Formula for Purification with Samin-Natron of Upper Egypt

Pure One takes up four pellets of natron and goes around the seat four times, crushing each pellet in the hand over statue of N

Recitation four times

pure, pure, for N the samin-natron for your mouth to be open Oh N! May you taste its taste in the front of the divine pavilion is the spittle of Horus and Seth it is the whole of the heart of Horus and Seth. Your mouth is washed, your natron is the purification of the gods; the followers of Horus